SAHF is a national collaborative of 13 nonprofit affordable housing developers. Our mission-driven alliance advances resident-centered policy changes and sustainable solutions for a world where every person has a healthy home in a flourishing community.

WHO WE ARE

SAHF’s mission-driven alliance advances resident-centered policy changes and sustainable solutions for a world where every person has a healthy home in a flourishing community.

WHO WE SERVE

- 2,018 properties
- 149,086 affordable rental homes
- 230,000+ residents

OUR COMMITMENT TO RACIAL EQUITY

Centuries of racially unjust policies have created inequity in every aspect of society, including housing, making homes less affordable for many people of color. SAHF and its members have adopted a pledge to advance racial equity – working individually and collectively in six focus areas to close gaps in housing, wealth, health and other areas. This work begins with understanding who lives in SAHF member properties and the outcomes they experience.

WHERE WE WORK

Each house represents one SAHF property.

OUR MEMBERS

SAHF and its members have adopted a pledge to advance racial equity – working individually and collectively in six focus areas to close gaps in housing, wealth, health and other areas. This work begins with understanding who lives in SAHF member properties and the outcomes they experience.

OUR MEMBERS

SAHF and its members have adopted a pledge to advance racial equity – working individually and collectively in six focus areas to close gaps in housing, wealth, health and other areas. This work begins with understanding who lives in SAHF member properties and the outcomes they experience.

OUR MEMBERS

SAHF and its members have adopted a pledge to advance racial equity – working individually and collectively in six focus areas to close gaps in housing, wealth, health and other areas. This work begins with understanding who lives in SAHF member properties and the outcomes they experience.

OUR MEMBERS

SAHF and its members have adopted a pledge to advance racial equity – working individually and collectively in six focus areas to close gaps in housing, wealth, health and other areas. This work begins with understanding who lives in SAHF member properties and the outcomes they experience.
NOTES

1. New construction impact calculated using a year-adjusted multiplier from National Home Builders' (NAHB) 2014 and 2020 reports, “National Impact of Home Building and Remodeling,” multiplied by SAHF member construction data spanning 2014-2020; local impact calculated using a multifamily multiplier from NAHB’s 2015 report, “The Economic Impact of Home Building in a Typical Local Area,” which was adjusted to reflect SAHF resident income data and then applied to SAHF’s total number of current properties; job categories collected from both NAHB reports.

2. All data points can be found in SAHF’s 2021 report, “The Impact of Home,” which analyzed member-reported resident data over a five-year span; for more details on eviction and housing instability data, see p. 13; for more details on changes in household income over time, see p. 23; for more details on healthcare access data, see p. 30 & 45. SAHF “comparable move-outs” includes evicted households and households on the path to eviction. Comparison eviction data comes from The Eviction Lab (evictionlab.org). Comparison healthcare access data comes from the CDC BRFSS.

3. Environmental impact data collected from SAHF’s 2021 report, “The Big Reach,” which tracked SAHF member energy and water data from 2010-2019 (Members had 2019 whole building data for the entire year, starting in first half of 2020. SAHF cleaned their data and addressed data gaps in the second half. Figures were approved by members in Q1 2021). For percent energy and water reductions, see p. 2 of report (percentages are against SAHF members’ 2010 baseline and based on available whole building data - 44% of members’ portfolio for energy and 64% of members’ portfolio for water); for smartphone and pool equivalencies, see p. 1; for annual cost savings, see p. 10; and for upgrades to homes, see p. 2.